Protective Roofing Products

Item # 3145523 PR2000 WORK PLATFORM

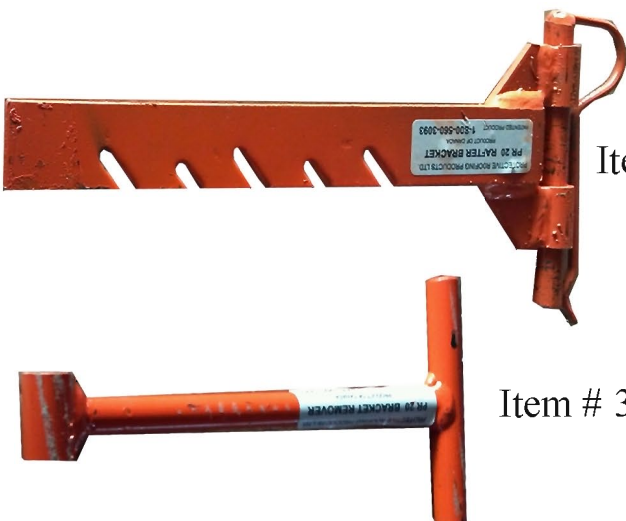

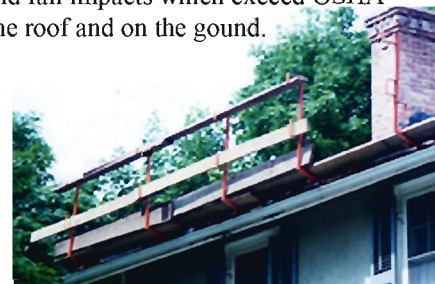

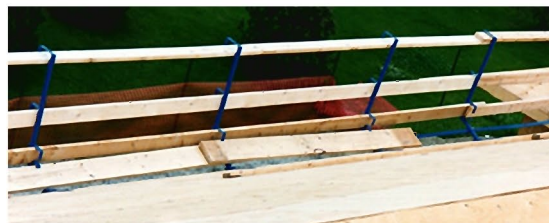

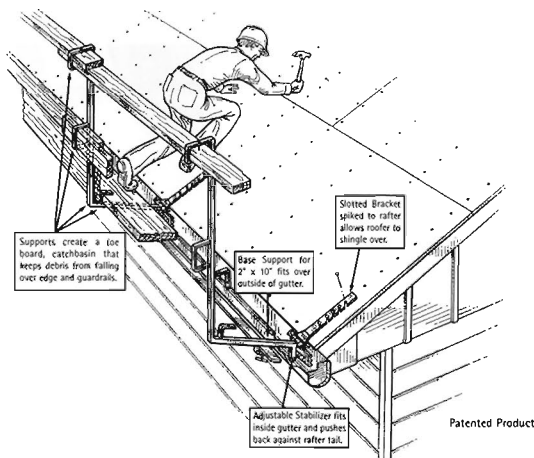

When using the PR 2000 on your roofing project, you will find that it will speed up production by controlling falling debris on those steep roof tear offs, minimizing ground clean up and ground damage. The system will give you a strong stable working platform from the beginning to the end of the project without interfering with a roofing work, soffit fascia, gutters or cornice work. A safe working environment is created and loading material onto steep roofs is made easier with the use of the PR 2000. The system allows for the installation of gutters with a roof flange.

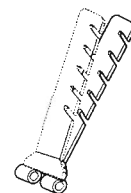

Item # 3145522 PR20 EAVE CATCHGUARD

The PR 20 Eave Catchguard is an easily installed guardrail for steep roofs that controls debris on those steep roof tear offs. The fastening bracket is slotted like a common roof jack, allowing the new roofing material to be installed right over the bracket.

The PR 20 Catchguard System was tested to withstand fall impacts which exceed OSHA and WCB standards, making it safe for workers on the roof and on the ground.
